Constitution of the Florida Baptist Association.

1st. This Association shall be known by the name of the Florida Baptist Association.

2d. The Association shall be composed of members chosen by the respective Churches in its union, not to exceed two members from each Church, who shall be duly authorized by letter to represent the Churches delegating them.

3a. In the levers sent up by the Churches at each session of the Association, shall be expressed their respective members in full fellowship, those baptised, received by letter, restored, dismissed, excommunicated, and dead, since the last session.

4th. Believing it to be proper, on account of the diversity of opinion among men as to the import of the Scripture doctrines, contained in the Old and New Testament, to declare our belief and understanding thereof, we therefore append our belief in twelve Articles, and present them, with our Minutes, to the Baptist denomination.

5th. The Association, when convened, shall be governed by a regular and proper Decorum. A Moderator and a Clerk, shall be chosen by the vote of the members present, who shall hold their office till the next session of the body, and until successors are elected. The Moderator shall preside at the meetings of the Association, and the Clerk shall record the proceedings thereof, and prepare them for the press.

6th. The Association, thus organized, shall have no power to Lord it over God's heritage, nor infringe upon the internal rights of any Church.

7th. Newly constituted Churches may be admitted into this union, upon application by letter and delegates; and if, upon examination, found to be orthodox, shall be received by the Association, and the right hand of fellowship extended to the delegates by the Moderator.

Sth. The Association shall furnish the Churches with the Minutes of their proceedings, in proportion to the funds sent up for that purpose by the Churches.

9th. The Minutes of the Association shall be publicly and distinctly read, (and corrected if necessary.) and then signed by the Moderator and Clerk before adjournment.

10th. Any amendment or alteration of this Constitution, may be made by the votes of two thirds of the members present, at any regular meeting of the Association, (of which notice shall be given in the minutes); and the concurrence of two thirds of the members present at the next Association shall make the desired alteration. All other matters in this Association shall be decided by a majority of votes.

11th The Association shall have power.

First. To provide for the general union of the Churches.

Secondly, To give the Churches advice and counsel in matters of difficulty.

Thirdly. To enquire into the course of any Churches failing to be represented at the meetings of the Association.

Fourthly. To withdraw all connection from any Church or Churches in this union, who shall violate the rules of this Association, or shall deviate from the orthodox principles of the revealed word of God.

Fifthly. To appropriate the moneys contributed to the Association fund, by the Church es, to any purpose they may think best for the interest of the Church of Christ.

Sixtbly. To adjourn to any future time and place they may deem most convenient to the Churches in the union.

Assented to by the Florida Association at Ebenezer Church, Jefferson County, Middle Florida; and signed by order of the same, on the 16th day of October, 1843.

JOHN BROOME, MODERATOR.

SAMUEL C. CRAFT, CLERK.

TERRITORY OF FLORIDA.

The following is a brief declaration of the sentiments and faith of the Florida Baptist Association; and is believed to express, with little variation, the general sentiments of the body in the United States:

1st. We believe the Holy Bible was written by men divinely inspired, and is a perfect treasure of heavenly instruction; that it has God for its author—salvation for its end—truth without mixture of error for its matter; that it reveals the principles by which God will judge us, and therefore is, and shall remain to the end of the world, the true centre of Christian union, and the supreme standard by which all human conduct, creeds and opinions, should be tried.

2d. Of the true God,—That there is one, and only one, true and living God, whose name is Jehovah, the maker and supreme ruler of heaven and earth—inexpressibly glorious in holiness, worthy of all possible honor, confidence and love—revealed under the personal and relative distinctions of the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost—equal in every divine perfection, and executing distinct but harmonious offices in the great work of redemption.

3d. Of the fall of man,—That man was created in a state of holiness under the law of his Maker, but by voluntary transgression fell from that holy and happy state; in consequence of which all mankind are sinners—not by constraint, but choice—being by nature utterly void of that holiness required by the law of God, wholly given to the gratification of the world, of Satan, and of their own sinful passions, and therefore under just condemnation to eternal ruin, without defence or excuse.

4th. Of the way of Salvation,—That the salvation of sinners is wholly of grace through the mediatorial office of the Son of God; who took upon himself our nature, yet without sin, honored the law by his personal obedience, and made atonement for our sins by his death; being risen from the dead, he is now enthroned in Heaven, and uniting in his wonderful person the tenderest sympathies with divine perfections, is every way qualified to be a suitable a compassionate, and an all-sufficient Savior.

'5th.' Of Justification—'That the great Gospel blessing, which Christ of his fulness bestows on such as believe in him, is justification; that justification consists in the pardon of sin

6th. Of the freeness of Salvation,—That the blessings of salvation are made free to all by the Gospel; that it is the immediate duty of all to accept them by a cordial and obedient faith; and that nothing prevents the salvation of the greatest sinner on earth, except his own voluntary refusal to submit to the Lord Jesus Christ; which refusal will subject him to an aggravated condemnation.

7th. Of Grace in Regeneration,—That in order to be saved, we must be regenerated, or born again; that regeneration consists in giving a holy disposition to the mind, and is effected in a manner above our comprehension or calculation, by the power of the Holy Spirit, so as to secure our voluntary obedience to the Gospel; and that its evidence is found in the holy fruit which we bring forth to the glory of God.

8th. Of God's purpose in Grace,—That election is the gracious purpose of God, according to which he regenerates, sanctifies, and saves sinners; that being perfectly consistent with the free agency of man, it comprehends all the means in connection with the end; that it is a most glorious display of God's sovereign goodness—being infinitely wise, holy and unchangeable—but it utterly excludes boasting, and promotes humility; prayer, praise, trust in God and active imitation of his free mercy, and it encourages the use of means in the highest degree; that it is ascertained by its effects in all who believe the Gospel—is the foundation of Christian assurance; and that to ascertain it with regard to ourselves, demands and deserves our utmost diligence.

9th. Of the Perservance of the Saints,—That such only are true believers as endure to the end; that their persevering attachment to Christ is the grand mark which distinguishes them from superficial professors; that a special Providence watches over their welfare; and that they are kept by the power of God through faith unto salvation.

10th. Harmony of the Law and Gospel,—That the law of God is the eternal and unchangeable rule of his moral government; that it is holy, just and good; and that the inability the Scriptures ascribe to fallen men to fulfil its precepts, arises entirely from their love of sin; to deliver them from which, and to restore them through a Mediator to unfeigned obedience to the holy law, is one great end of the Gospel, and of the means of grace connected with the establishment of the visible Church.

11th. Of Baptism and the Lord's Supper,—That Christian Baptism is the immersion of a believer in water, in the name of the Father, Son and Spirit—to shew forth in a solemn and beautiful emblem, our faith in a crucified, buried and risen Savior; that it is pre-requisite to the privileges of a Church relation, and to the Lord's Supper; in which the members of the Church, by the use of bread and wine, are to commemorate together the dying love of Christ, preceded always by a solemn self-examination.

12th Of a Gospel Church,—That a visible Church of Christ is a congregation of baptised believers, associated by covenant in the faith and fellowship of the Gospel; observing the ordinances of Christ, governed by his laws, and exercising the gifts, rights and privileges invested in them by his Word; that its only proper officers are Elders, or Pastors, and Deacons, whose qualifications, claims and duties are defined in the Epistles to Timothy and Titus.

13th. The Christian Sabbath, - The first day of the week is the Lord's day, or the Christian Sabbath, and is to be kept sacred to religious purposes.

14th. Of the World to Come,—That the end of this world is approaching; that at the last day, Christ will descend from Heaven and raise the dead from their graves to final retribution; that a solemn seprataion will then take place; that the wicked will be adjudged to endless punishment and the righteous to endless joy; and that this judgment will fix forever the final state of men in heaven or hell, on principles of righteousness.

Rules of Decorum for the Florida Baptist Association.

1. At every meeting of the Association, the Moderator shall call the members to order, and cause the Clerk to read the minutes of the preceding Association.

2. The Moderator shall preserve order, shall speak on points of order in preference to other members, and shall decide questions of order, subject to an appeal to the Association when requested by any two members.

3. The Moderator shall put all questions distinctly in this form:—"As many as are in favour (as the question may be) say aye;" and after the affirmative voice is taken—"as many as are of a contrary opinion say no." If doubtful which voice is in the majority, it shall be decided by rising and counting.

4. The Moderator shall appoint committees, except in cases of appointment by ballot.

5. In all cases of ballot, the Moderator may vote; in other cases he shall not vote, unless the Association be equally divided, or unless his vote, if given to the minority, will make the division equal, in that case the question shall be lost.

6. When any member is about to speak in debate, he shall rise and address himself respectfully to the Moderator.

7. If any member, while speaking or otherwise, transgress the rules of decorum, the Moderator shall, or any member may, call him to order.

8. When two or more members rise at the same time, the Moderator shall determine who is first entitled to the floor.

9. No member shall indulge unkind remark in debate; nor shall any member speak more than twice on the same question without leave of the Association, nor more than once, until every member choosing to speak shall have done so.

10. While any member is addressing the Association, it shall be the duty of the Moderfor to suppress all private discourse that may be entertained between the members, and to sequire strict attention on the part of the members.

Having so recently second from the Ocklockonnee Association, and this being our first Circular, a decent and respectful regard for the opinions of other Christian denominations, and to mankind in general, would, perhaps, justify, and even claim, at present, a declaration of the causes which impelled us to this separation. By referring to the last minutes of said Association, will be found an article passed at that session, couched in the following dictatorial language:-"It is the duty of this Association to provide for the general union of the Churches, and will not fellowship any Church or Churches, nor hold them in union, that support any modern Missionary, Bible, Tract or Sunday School Union societies or Theological School, either in themselves, or in any other person or persons, or any other society that now is or may hereafter be constituted, under a pretence of circulating the Gospel of Christ; nor will she correspond with any Association that support or fellowship any of the above named societies." Christian friends and patriots of America, we claim to be descendants of the venerable fathers of the Reformation, and the legitimate offspring of the sages and heroes of the American Revolution; and we contend that in our breasts is the repository of that inestimable boon, obtained by the blood of our venerated fathers-liberty of conscience. We contend for the free exercise of that reason which God has given us, and by which we are distinguished from the beasts of the field, and which constitutes man's resemblance to the Deity, and elevates him to the superiority he possesses of this lower creation.

Truth, moral and divine, can only flourish in Freedom's soil. There, only, it shoots up and sheds its fruit for the healing of the nations. "Let every man be fully persuaded in his own mind," was the advice of the Apostle to his Christian Brethren; and surely no substantial reason can ever be given, to warrant the abrogation of such wholesome advice. Suppose we, for once, relinquish the exercise of our reason in religious matters, and submissively acquiesce in the dogmas of others, we should, ere long, (as sad experience has evinced,) be brought to groan beneath the absurdities of bigotry and prejudice, and our religious devotions burdened and perplexed with a long train of traditionary ceremonies. We believe that neither God nor the Constitution of our country has authorized any set of men

Let Cosar's dues ever be paid to Cosar and his throne,

But consciences and souls were made to be the Lord's alone."

If we but east our eyes back, and review the mournful and melancholy pages of ecclesiastical history; we shall find that an awful languor and death-like torpidity hung over the Church of God, and enveloped mankind in darkness and doubt, whilst the will and reason of man were made to crouch at the footstool of a Roman pontiff.

But since the glorious dawn of the Reformation, Truth has emerged from those shades of superstition and error, in which she had been enshrouded by the intrigues of the artful and designing. Now, through the instrumentality of the departed worthies of the Reformation and of the American Revolution, are we permitted to read, think and reason for ourselves; and by means of these glorious privileges, error ceases to be perpetuated from the sire to the son, as in former days. Therefore, we deem it to be our indispensable duty, as the descendants of a race of illustrious sires, who have transmitted to us, untarnished, those invaluable rights of man, which God has implanted in the breast of his intelligent creatures, to discountenance any man or set of men, who, under the sacred garb of religion, would again attempt to rivet upon us the trammels of despotism; and that in its worst hue-the

Our churches having been originally formed upon the "true platform of Republican Democracy," as an eminent statesman has justly observed, and believing, as we did, that the article above quoted, as well as the general course and conduct of our former brethren towards us, tended directly to militate against all free discussion and the exercise of private judgment, we remonstrated with them in a most respectful, yet energetic manner. We implored them, by all the considerations of Christian charity and forbearance, to rescind their anathema. But in vain did we plead as dutiful children. The bull was denounced against us, and we were compelled obsequiously to submit, as heretics, excommunicated and delivered over to Satan, or to assert the legitimate rights that God and our beloved country have guaranteed to us. We chose the latter, and call Heaven to witness the purity of our. motives, and the impartiality of the Christian world, and the tenacity of American patriotism to testify to the correctness of our views and our consequent steps. These, Christians and friends, are the causes which led to the formation of the Florida Baptist Association.

We come now, brethren and sisters, more directly to address you, and, by referring you to the state of some of our churches, you will discover that we have something whereof to glory in our God. The time seems to be fulfilled, in which God intends to bless the means of his own appointment, to the salvation of his creatures. When we take a melancholy retrospect of the past, and compare it with the delightful state of things, which present themselves to our view at present, O, brethren and sisters, can we but be filled with gratitude and praise to the "Author of every good and perfect gift!" The awful and portending cloud of "false doctrine," which, like an incubus, has so long hung over the churches of our denomination in Florida, and settled its members down into a death-like lethargy and lukewarinness, is now rapidly passing away before the pure light of the Gospel of Truth. time is fulfilled and the "kingdom of God is at hand." The cloud of temporal war has passed from our borders. No more do we hear the savages. No more are our wives and children subject to the tomahawk and scalping-knife; and the spiritual cloud of ignorance, prejudice, bigotry and superstition, is fast vanishing before the superior and radiant blaze of the light of the Gospel: - .

" For darkness and doubt are now flying away, No longer we roam in conjecture forlorn; So breaks on the traveller, faint and estray, The bright and the balmy effulgence of morn. See Truth, Love and Mercy in triumph descending, And nature all glowing in Eden's first bloom; On the cold cheek of Death smiles and roses are blending, And beauty immortal awakes from the tomb."

Yea, the time is fulfilled and the "kingdom of God is at hand." The cloud of temporal war has passed from our borders. No more do we hear the savages. No more are our wives and children subject to the tomahawk and scalping-knife; and the spiritual cloud of ignorance, prejudice, bigotry and superstition, is fast vanishing before the superior and radiant blaze

See Truth, Love and Mercy in triumph descending, And nature all glowing in Eden's first bloom; On the cold cheek of Death smiles and roses are blending, And beauty immortal awakes from the tomb."

O, brethren and sisters, should not the glorious news we have from some of our churches, cheer our hearts, animate our affections and arouse us to more strength and zeal, in the cause of our Master, in the salvation of His creatures.

That God should thus bless all the churches within our boundaries being the fervent desire of our hearts, permit us, dear brethren and sisters, upon the present occasion, to point out and recommend to you one of the primary means, in the use of which, God seems to own and bless; and that is-the subject of prayer, which we conceive to be one of the most powerful and efficient means, through which, God has ever blessed His Church. We are commanded by the Apostle to "Take the helmet of salvation and the sword of the Spirit, which is the Word of God, praying always, with all prayer and supplication in the spirit, and watching thereunto, with all perseverance and supplicating for all saints."

Prayer is the language of dependence; hence the phrase "prayerless Christian," is as irreconcilable and paradoxical as the term "frigid caloric." Prayer is the Christian's food. It is his proper element. It is his delight. That which may tend to promote and strengthen virtue, or to calm and regulate the temper, is a source of happiness. Prayer produces these desirable effects to a remarkable degree. It inspires composure of spirit, mildness and benignity. It weakens the painful and, in a remarkable degree, cherishes the pleasing emotions of our hearts; and, by these means, carries on our lives, in a smooth and placid

More than this -- in opens a field of enjoyment to which the prayerless is an entire This is that "balm" to which we may all aggety with pleasing consulation, when the world leaves us, or, through adversity, it acoms to have become one for; for such seasons the forgent, prayerful Christian has a hidden store of comfact faid up. For lot us be placed in whatsoever situation of life we may, the world can neither always give us pleasure, mor shield us from distress. There will always be periods of vacuity and dejection.

O, if we be strangers to prayer, with what oppressive weight will sickness, disappointment or old age fall upon our spirits! But for these pensive periods, let us always have a relief prepared in prayer, for by this, we are transported from the common vanities of life, and from the painful corrosion of its cares and sorrows, into a new region, and surrounded there with such objects as are most calculated to cheer our dejection, to calm the tumults and heal the wounded heart. Perhaps the world has been too much the object of our pursuit, and finally proved delusive, (as is, alas! too often the case). This will gladden us with the the prospect of a higher and better order of things, about to arise. Our friends may have proved ungrateful and base; this displays to our view the faithfulness of that Supreme Being who, though every other friend fail, will never forsake nor east us off. In short, prayer is the enjoyment, and the only solid enjoyment of a Christian's life. It is the support of his virtue and the rest of his soul, in this turbulent world. It composes his thoughts, calms his passions and exalts his heart. Through this channel, God designs to impart his grace, as well to the low as the high—the poor as well as the rich. In the exercise of this delightful emotion of the soul, worldly distinctions cease, and off-times worldly sorrows are forgotten.

This is a sanctuary ever open to the miserable-inaccessible to none.

But our business, at present, is not so much with the general principles of prayer, as we presume there are but few, calling themselves Christians, but acknowledge its force and vital importance, at least, in theory; therefore we would beg leave to descend to particulars --And, brothsen and sisters, however strongly we would wish to recommend to you the subject of secret prayer, meditation and self-examination, and also the beautiful and most pleasing theme, family prayer and devotion, yet, hoping that these are all duly attended to by you, our limits admonish us to bring your minds immediately to the subject of "PRAYER MEETings," as experience has taught us that, in these social meetings, the lukewarm and lethargic are aroused to zeal and activity. It is here the timid and diffident are strengthened and encouraged. Here have been fostered, and here germinated, the most towering talents; and some of the most brilliant and useful luminaries that have ever graced the pulpit, since the days of the Apostles. It is in these meetings that God oft-times manifests his call to the ministry; and it is in these, also, that sinners are constrained to say "See how these Christians live and love." Here they are convicted; here they are comforted, and here they are made to rejoice in Christ, their Saviour. Yes, brethren and sisters, it is in these that have budded the glorious revival and increase of Christ's kingdom, during the present year, which you find recorded in our Minutes. Then permit us, beloved brethren and sisters, by your love for your children, by your anxiety for your neighbors, by your solicitude for the salvation and redemption of lost sinners and by your zeal for the glory of God, to admonish you to foster and cherish, by all laudable means, this channel through which, God seems to delight in communicating his blessings. Finally, brethren and sisters, farewell! and may the God of peace JOHN BROOME, Moderator. and love dwell with you and us. Amen!

Beloved Brethren: -The first session of the Florida Association was held on Saturday before the third Sabbath in October, which is the time of annual sessions in future. cause of our separation from the Ocklockonnee Association, is probably known to you. We were compelled to denounce all the efforts, which Christians are making, to spread the Gospel, in obedience to the command of their Saviour; or adopt the alternative we have, of forming a new associated body. In such a dilemma, we could not hesitate. God has commanded us to send forth his Gospel to the world; and, painful as it was to sunder the ties from our parent Association, we were constrained to do it. In the early part of last Spring, ten churches met in convention by their delegates, and determined to constitute the Florida Association; and we are happy to say to you, that seven other churches were added to our union, at our recent session, all actuated by an ardent and holy zeal for the promotion of the Redeemer's kingdom on earth. From several of these churches we learned by their letters, that large additions had been made to their numbers during the last year, and a spirit of anxious enquiry still exists in our borders. The deliberations of our Association were harmonious and peaceful. The spirit of Christ seemed to hover over us, to cheer and gid us in our infant efforts to honor and advance his blessed Gospel. Brotherly kindness and unanimity characterized all our proceedings. Christians wept, and yet rejoiced, at the heavenly feeling, which pervaded every member of our little assembly. Nor were the blesge of our meeting confined to Christians alone; sinners were made to rejoice in the happy of that their sins were forgiven, and many who attended upon the ministration of the
